

Knobstone Glade Nature Preserve

County: Jackson                      Size: 60 acres
Ownership: Forestry - IDNR

Location and Access

Parking & trail to north glade. The preserve is in Jackson-Washington State Forest. From the intersection of SR. 135 and US 50 at Brownstown, proceed south on SR. 135 about 3.5 miles. Turn left, following the sign to Starve Hollow Recreation Area. From the north end of the campground, follow the hiking trail around the northeast arm of the lake. After climbing a steep hill, this trail passes through one of the glades. There is no easy access to the other glades.

Description: There are three separate tracts of land in Knobstone Glade, each featuring a glade. Glades are forest openings with sparse herbaceous vegetation growing on and around bedrock outcroppings. Stunted, gnarled-looking chestnut and blackjack oaks grow in and around these openings along with scattered lowbush blueberries, one of the few shrubby species found in glades. The dry, open conditions support some prairie plants as well.
