

What We're About

Since 1970, the Indiana State Police has offered over 40,000 young people an exciting, up-close look at law enforcement and the criminal justice system through its youth camps. The camps help students gain respect for themselves and others through programs, which demonstrate the rewards of hard work and dedication.

Camps are held at universities around the state and offer campers a unique glimpse of campus life. Each program includes well-balanced meals and comfortable sleeping facilities. Camp staffs are hand-picked, responsible law enforcement personnel, who have committed themselves to preparing today's youth for their futures.

Camps are coordinated by the Indiana Troopers Youth Services with additional support of the Indiana State Police Alliance, Association of Indiana State Troopers, Indiana District Optimists, Jaycees, Lions Clubs of Indiana and Indiana Kiwanis.

Indiana State Police Summer Youth Camps

Camps Are Structured for Great Fun and Learning!!

*Fun Fact:
The Indiana State Police Summer Youth Camps began in 1970!*

Junior Pioneer Campouts

Unlike the leadership camps, the Junior Pioneer Campouts are designed specifically for students between 11 and 14 who need a structured program with close supervision. Group homes, welfare departments, law enforcement agencies, probation departments or school counselors may recommend young people for the campouts.

These co-ed campouts are held at state parks and allow campers to prepare their own meals, set up campsites and explore the outdoors. Additionally, campers receive one on one time with law enforcement officers, who help them develop a more positive outlook for their futures.

These camps are by recommendation only.

Respect For Law Camps

These three-day camps are an exciting look at law enforcement for students entering 5th and 6th grades. Police officers staff the co-ed camps and programs and include spectacular demonstrations by Emergency Response Team members, Bomb Squads, Underwater Search and Rescue Teams and Police Dogs.

Campers participate in recreational activities, make new friends and go home with a new respect for themselves and others.

These respect for law camps are co-sponsored by the Optimists Clubs of Indiana and scholarships are available.

Law Camps

Law Camps give students entering the 7th and 8th grades a behind the scenes look at the criminal justice system.

The four-day co-ed camps offer a more advanced look at law enforcement through field trips, exciting demonstrations and motivating programs.

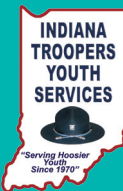

Campers meet peers from around the state, participate in recreational activities and leave with a greater understanding of the police field.

These leadership camps are co-sponsored by the Lions Clubs of Indiana and scholarships are available.

Career Camps

Similar to the Indiana State Police Academy, Career Camps give high school students an in-depth look at law enforcement. Campers conduct their own crime scene investigations, hear from defense attorneys, judges, and other experts in the criminal justice field, and watch exciting police demonstrations during the week-long camps.

The co-ed Camps, allow students to make friends from around the state, participate in recreational activities and experience what the police academy is like.

The Indiana Troopers Youth Services is the proud sponsor of the Indiana State Police Summer Youth Camps.
