MOURDOCK PRAISES 911 EFFORTS

INDIANAPOLIS (May 13) – This week, the 11 millionth wireless call over the IN-911 network was made from Greenfield.

Since its inception in 2006, the IN-911 network has grown to be the largest and most advanced Internet Protocol (IP) 911 network in the world. Calls can now be routed far more efficiently which has resulted in thousands of additional lives saved.

State Treasurer Richard Mourdock will be at the Hancock County 911 Center to acknowledge the incredible efforts made by our first responders.
